Advertising Rates.

Equitable Advertising Rates based on actual circulation. The advertiser gets just what he pays for—no more no less.
REGULAR COMMERCIAL ADVERTISING.
On three, six or twelve months' contracts: One fifth of one cent per line, on each hundred copies inserted, during the insertion. Any number of changes made on payment of the extra cost of type setting. 10 lines (this type) to the inch. Thus an advertisement occupying three inches down the column, and running 12 weeks, on an average circulation of 500, would cost with one change of matter only $4.50.
TRANSIENT AND SPECIAL.—(One month or less, at special rates.)

Editorial Business Notices—2 cents per line per hundred of circulation.
Legal Notices—1 cent per line per hundred of circulation.
Special Notices—Minimum type, next to advertising columns, in local rates after first insertion.
Average record kept of each week's circulation, and charges graded accordingly.

Republican Rally.

The republicans will raise a Garfield and Arthur pole on Monday next, with a grand ratification meeting and torch-light procession at night. All republican clubs and republicans generally are invited to be present and take a part.

Missed Papers.

Mr. W. H. Funk reports no paper received by him this week. Second time.

Some of the Hancock guards are practicing the skirmish drill.

Rife watermelons have made their appearance.

Garfield has been considerably injured in this section by the drought.

The republicans of Saltriver were up and stirring Saturday night.

We learn that there was a private and select drill by the Hancock guards a few evenings since.

Mr. James Conner has one turkey for a couple of very nice early apples left at his office on Saturday last.

Keep in mind the teachers' institute which meets in this place on the 16th of August. Every teacher in the county ought to attend.

Dr. Grove has fitted up a fine fountain where the best of soda, gingerale and Ottawa can be had at a moderate notice.

We admit the Democratic statement. It was cruel in us to quote the Democratic's own language.

The fourth quarterly meeting for Kirkville circuit, M. E. Church, south, will be at Brashear, July 31st and Aug. 1st.

Mr. W. P. Johnson of this place, has sold his meat market to James Kearns, of Greenacres. Mr. Kearns took possession of his new purchase last Monday.

Jimmy Parks and Sam Landers have have just finished a nice job of plastering on the office and dining room of the North Missouri hotel.

The lawn party given at the residence of E. B. Brownington on last Tuesday evening by the young ladies of the M. E. Sunday school, though not largely attended, was a pleasant affair.

Let the convention see to it that none but first class men are nominated next Monday. If we can get a ticket of unobjectionable men we can carry the county by a larger majority than ever before.

Mr. C. A. Allgaier has discovered and is the compounder of an ointment or salve which is said to be the best extant for cuts, burns or sores. It is also a sure remedy for polio.

The man who drew an inference at a lottery, has concluded it pays better to invest in groceries at Osenbaugh's Quincy store. Don't fail to call at this popular store before purchasing.

We are glad to get news from all over this and adjoining counties. Correspondents are requested to send important items at once. Give us the facts and we will shape them up if they need it. News is what we want.

This has been a lively week among the county candidates and their friends. It is amusing to watch the maneuvering between the rivals. But after the convention the republicans of Adair will present a solid front. They are in earnest and are determined to be victorious.

Our Wilmathville package was put in the office in ample time to have went out Saturday morning, but from some reason failed to reach its destination. We are sorry but can not help it.

GRAND RALLY

AND

RATIFICATION

Meeting!

Monday Night,

Aug. 2nd.

Republicans Turn out

and Let us Have a Regular Old

Fashioned

Rally.

Remember Next

MONDAY NIGHT.

There will be a grand rally ratification meeting and torchlight procession, in Kirkville,

on Monday evening, August

2nd, to which all republicans are earnestly invited.

By order of the executive Committee.

"World's Fair"

is the rather ambitious and high sounding title of the second annual exhibition of the Farmers Association, which will be held near Edina on the 5th, 6th and 7th of October. We have received the premium list which is a handsome printed pamphlet of 24 pages, in striking contrast to the miserable looking sample got out by our own association. No imprint is given or we would take pleasure in naming the office where the work was done. Prices of admission to the fair only 15 cents, whether in wagon, buggy or on foot. A stock side will be held each day of the fair. No drinking, swearing or betting allowed on the grounds. The management have our thanks for their polite invitation to be present.

All foreign flags and colors over the American, in the procession last night.

Oliver Hill.

Flora's Creek, July 26.—The Garfield club met on Saturday night. L.

D. Matly was called to the chair, the chairman, T. D. Bell not being present.

We listened to good speeches from Dr.

R. H. Browne, Judge Sands, from Kirkville, and from Mr. Matly, of Clay township. We had a large audience and very good order with the exception of interruptions by a youth of sixteen, or thereabouts. We will not give his name as some of his old neighbors will advise him as to how to conduct himself in the future. We endorsed twenty-three names. Adjourned to meet at White schoolhouse, Thursday night. B. A. BOWMAN.

The Hancock men trade at the Quincy store, he-co-ros-sets the place for cheap groceries, while the Garfield men do likewise. By-gollyer they can't help it.

The democracy had a rally at the Union school house in Wilson township, on Saturday evening last, which seems to have been a rather funeral and mel-ancholly affair. To begin with the territory of a portion of three townships was ransacked to procure enough material to organize with. The party that went down from Kirkville, commenced picking up timber seven miles this side of the school house. P. F. Greenwood addressed the assemblage, and was followed by the gentleman from Washington, who could not stand the association of republicans after he was sent home from the public crib. The latter did not say much, confining himself principally to the wonderful things he was going to perpetrate before the campaign closes. Including boys and all, the club organized with a membership of about thirty.

mus in that solid strong hold of bor-

Bond Received.

We learn that the soldiers' re-union committee received the blank bond to be filled out and signed for the tents and arms to be used at the reunion. The supplies will be shipped here from the Rock Island arsenal, on receipt of the papers in proper shape. The matter will receive attention, we presume, at an early date.

Miss Sue Baird desires her customers to know that she has made arrangements to retain the present location opposite the post office during the coming season. For anything in the millinery line give her a call.

Adair Co. Grange.

The regular meeting of the Adair Co. Grange will be held at Rural Dell school house on Wednesday the 4th day of August 1889. A good attendance is desired.

Hart the Jeweller occupies a portion of the building with G. R. Brewington East Side Square.

Letter List.

The following letters are advertised at the Kirkville post office:

Billard, Mrs. Nancy, Duval W. S. Foster W. F., Osgood Daniel, Rosa F. H. Gallon David, Stewart Mrs. E. T. Stewart Miss Ella, Thompson Ed, Wood Mrs. Parcia.

All the torch-light processions this year have revolved around the Quincy Grocery. It is the most popular place in the county.

We want a straight republican ticket in the field—a ticket made up of good men. The interests of the state of Missouri demand it.

A full stock of choice family flour at Jos. Ivie's.

Two Legged Nuisances.

Kirkville, like other towns of its size, has a few men, and a large number of boys, who unconsciously, are petty swindlers. The amounts obtained are, of course, such trifles, that it is not criminal but assumes more the character of deadbeatism. Market-men generally, and apple-men especially, are the victims of these foragers, whose rapacious jaws are ever ready to close on anything suitable to the palate.

A farmer comes in with a large strong wagon loaded to the top of the side boards with fine delicious fruit, whose skins of emerald, coral and gold glisten in the sun. The appleman stops his strong good natured team at one of the pumps to give them a drink. He is pumping the water when one of these petty swindlers, or dead beats, we do not know which to call him, comes along, pauses at the side of the wagon bed, looks in, thrusts in an arm and bruises all the large fine apples he can get his hand on.

The good natured farmer looks up at the professional who looks up at the farmer. The professional with the air of a man who desires to purchase a car-load of apples says:

"Apples?"

"Yes sir," the farmer will reply, continuing to pump water for his horses.

"For sale?"

"Yes sir" is the reply.

Three or four other professionals have crowded around, and all feeling and squeezing and destroying as much of the poor man's load as they can.

"Fine fruit, Jim, better buy some," says first professional to a colleague.

"Oh I have seen better."

"Not much, I think I'd like some of these if they taste as well as they look."

"How are they anyhow, pretty good?" says a third professional.

"Well I am going to taste one first to try if they are good. I'll may be buy some."

He takes an apple and bites one, the others now from six to a dozen strong emboldened by his example, all take from one to three apples a piece; just as the owner comes around hoping to dispose of his fruit.

"What is these apples worth?" asks one professional of the farmer.

"I want just what apples are selling for here. I just came in and don't know the price of fruit."

"That's too high," says one and all shaking their heads and walking away and chewing the apples which it would be an honor to all such professionals to say had been stolen.

The appleman goes to the next corner to meet a similar crowd. And from one eighth to one fourth of nearly every load of apples are taken in that way, or so bruised by pinching and feeling for a mellow apple, as to spoil the sale of them. We do not believe that people really intend doing wrong, but there are some even in our town addicted to this careless, unconscious swindling.

No dull season at Joe Ivie's. A full stock and live trade right along. Call and see him.

By a misunderstanding the announcement of Mr. F. M. Harrington was omitted
